Sixteen Compete for Miss Lambuth Title

Held at Tigrett Junior High School on March 1, 1975, the Miss Lambuth Pageant had a total of 16 girls entered in competition. Mistress of Ceremonies, Miss Linda Hawks, presided over the evening's activities which featured a myriad of girls with poise, beauty, and talent. A special highlight of the pageant was the appearance of Deby Kincaid, Miss Tennessee 1974, who entertained the crowd with a medley of popular tunes.

Jana Lee McDaniel Named Miss Lambuth

Representing Sigma Kappa Sorority, Jana Lee McDaniel was named Miss Lambuth after performing a vocal medley of Al Jolson and Judy Garland songs, including the numbers "Swanee" and "Mammy." Jana Lee, a Family Development major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lee McDaniel of Friendship, Tennessee.

Cathie Carter, sponsored by Kappa Alpha Order, was selected First Maid. Cathie's talent presentation consisted of a flute solo of the Overture to Telemann's "Suite in A Minor." Cathie was accompanied by Mrs. Don Huneycutt on the harpsichord. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter, Cathie is an English major from Bonham, Texas.

Peaches Parsons, a native of Earle, Arkansas, performed a dramatic interpretation of "The Bad Seed" to win the position of Second Maid. Sponsored by Epworth Hall, Peaches is an English major. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis.

Third Maid, Mary Cay Alexander, a Biology pre-med major, represented Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority. From Nashville, Tennessee, Mary Cay played a piano selection of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Minor." Mary Cay is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ben Alexander.

Sponsored by Phi Mu Sorority, Sydney Bradley was named Fourth Maid. Sydney performed a dance to "Devil's Dance" from "The Exorcist" in the talent competition. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bradley, Sydney is a Christian Education major from Marietta, Georgia.

Tornado Brings Destruction

Last spring the Lambuth campus was a scene of destruction after two tornadoes struck Jackson in early April. The second tornado severely affected the campus, destroying trees and damaging buildings. The storm uprooted fifteen trees and damaged many more. In addition, the twister broke over 100 windows in Jones Hall. Most of the campus buildings suffered roof damage, in addition to water damage and air-conditioning damage.

Concert Fills Athletic Center

A highlight of the spring activities was a concert featuring Barry Manilow sponsored by Lambuth's Administration and Student Government. Over 2,000 people filled the Athletic Center to watch the band's superb performance, which consisted of songs ranging from current hits to a medley of Manilow's commercial jingles. The high point of the performance was Manilow's appearance on stage in a Lambuth College T-shirt.

Warm Weather Encourages Campus Activity

With warm weather beginning in early spring and lasting through most of the fall, students often found themselves outside enjoying friends and games rather than remaining behind closed doors. With the sun shining and a game of frisbee going, few students could resist the temptation to join the latest activity on the quadrangle. Some students even discovered studying was not as difficult when lying on the grass or under a tree.

Springtime Is Busy for Theatre

The Lambuth Theatre's first production of 1975 was the drama "Ghosts." The play by Henrik Ibsen dealt with society's taboos, as well as dead conventions that can weigh down a society. The cast was headed by Marsha Coleman as the intellectually emancipated Mrs. Alving and Chris Sterling as Oswald, her dying son. Under the direction of Mr. Newton Neely, the cast of five exhibited fine acting and excellent characterizations throughout the five-day run.

The final production of the year was Neil Simon's "Barefoot in the Park," directed by Mr. Jesse Byrum. Chikita Wallace and Toney Walsh portrayed a newlywed couple besieged by both an interfering mother-in-law and an interfering neighbor. The three-act comedy marked the close of a very successful Lambuth Theatre season.

Following the final production was the Fine Arts Banquet and the presentation of Drama Awards.

174 Seniors Receive Diplomas

A total of 174 seniors received diplomas at the graduation exercises held on Sunday evening, May 25, at the front of South Hall. The Rev. Billy M. Starnes, President of Martin College in Pulaski, Tennessee, presented the graduation address, entitled "The Challenge of the Unattained." Announced at graduation were special awards of recognition of two seniors: "Cindy" Ann Conatser received the R. E. Womack Award for outstanding senior and "Becky" Moore Turner received the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority's Award of outstanding service. Becky also placed as one of the top two graduates, along with Pat Youngblood. Forty-four seniors received the bachelor of arts degree and 130 the bachelor of science degree in the ceremonies.

Thompson Speaks at Baccalaureate

The Baccalaureate service for the 1975 Senior Class featured the Reverend Daly Thompson, Jr. of St. John's United Methodist Church in Memphis, as guest speaker. The Rev. Thompson talked to the graduates on the topic, "To Reach the Goal," in the May 25 morning service in the chapel.

Summer Activities Vary

During the summer, the pace of activities on campus slowed down, but never stopped. Even though many students went home for the summer, those who remained never had to wait too long for some type of excitement. Once again, the Lambuth Theatre promoted its successful summer program consisting of four productions. "The Rainmaker" and "The Pajama Game" were directed by Professor Jesse Byrum, whereas Professor Newton Neely directed "I Do! I Do!" and "The Innocents." As the summer progressed, Lambuth hosted band camps and cheerleader tryouts. Also during the summer, Miss Lambuth, Jana Lee McDaniel, received the title of 2nd runner-up in the Miss Tennessee competition held in Jackson.

Orientation Revised

The opening of school this year was marked by an exciting orientation period. Many traditional activities characterized the period, such as the freshman dance and a picnic held at the home of President and Mrs. Wilder. However, a few changes occurred in the orientation program as a result of the revision of the counselors' roles. This year counselors extended orientation through the fall semester by leading group discussions, in addition to individual counseling. Because of increased involvement, the counselors were able to receive two semester hours' credit at no extra charge.

Tradition Typifies Opening of School

As in past years, traditional events enlivened the opening weeks of classes. The activities began with registration, which was a surprisingly smooth process this year. Later that same week, many students and faculty enjoyed the first all-campus picnic. Finally, the highlight of the opening of school, the traditional opening convocation, came during the first full week of classes.

Greeks Have Successful Rush Week

The four sororities and three fraternities again launched the freshmen into a typically busy rush week. Parties encouraging the freshmen to "go Greek" characterized the week for both men and women. The highlight of the week was Saturday afternoon, when approximately eighty rushees accepted bids. Panhellenic and Inter Fraternity Council then entertained their new pledges with the traditional sorority and fraternity dance.

"Oklahoma!" Incorporates Lambuth's Talented

Opening the 1975-76 theatre season, Lambuth Thespians, directed by Jesse Byrum, produced the rollicking Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "Oklahoma!" Bright summertime sets designed and executed by Newton Neely and Larry Ray and colorful costumes rented from a New York company contributed to the effectiveness of the cast's energetic and enjoyable performance.

Adding to the excitement was the visit of Mrs. Tex Ritter whose husband had the original role of Curly in "Green Grow the Lilacs." Toney Walsh played Curly in Lambuth's musical production. Members of the Lambuth Concert Band under the direction of Dick Brown formed the orchestra to accompany the 32-member cast. Choreographed by Pat Brown, "Oklahoma!" was particularly enhanced by the dancing and lighting of the dream sequence. Dr. David Dubose, a member of Lambuth's sociology department, was cast as the charlatan whose tricks and wit created much of the show's humor. For the cast and crew and for the six full-house audiences who viewed "Oklahoma!" with pleasure, the production was a delightful success.

Sigma Kapers Spurs Competition

Sigma Kappa Sorority sponsored the annual Sigma Kapers Day for the enjoyment of the campus. The beautiful fall weather was perfect for a day of competitive races, games, and stunts. Kappa Sigma fraternity and Alpha Omicron Pi sorority won first place in the games, and AOPi and Sig Ep had the winning representatives in the Beauty Review.

Visitors to Campus Provide Stimulus

Fall activities proved interesting and enjoyable for Lambuth students. FOCUS, a period of religious emphasis, sponsored by the Campus Congregation, the SGA, and the college Special Events committee was a great success this year. Nationally known attorney and theologian Dr. William Stringfellow, and feminist comedy team Harrison and Tyler were on campus to participate in the program. The theme was "America Whither Bound?" and Chaplain Brady Whitehead, Jr. was the coordinator of this annual event. During the same week, the National Shakespeare Company of New York held a drama workshop for theatre students in the Lambuth Theatre, and presented "The Tempest" and "Macbeth" at Jackson Junior High.

The Time of Your Life Makes Dramatic Debut

Featuring a combination of both comedy and drama, the Lambuth Theatre's December production, The Time of Your Life, presented an indepth study of humanity as seen in the 1939 San Francisco bar-room setting. Overshadowed by the imminence of war, the play threw its spotlight on the characters of Joe, "a young loafer with money and a good heart," and Kitty Duval, the prostitute who still held dreams for a better life. The yarn-spinning tales and antics of Kit Carson lent a humorous note to the story and the characters of the bumbling errand-boy, Tom, and Nick, the cigar-chomping bartender-proprietor, added further diversity.

Mr. Jesse Byrum directed the cast in this winter theatrical endeavor. Parker Dinwiddie, who portrayed Joe, designed the intricate set, which required the acquisition of such period pieces as a dated pinball machine and a Roosevelt-era radio.

Parents Experience College Life

Parents of Lambuth students were invited to see all aspects of college existence during Parents' Weekend, held in December. Sponsored by the SGA, the second annual event gave parents the opportunity to view the total campus experience of their children.

Activities included planetarium shows, theatrical skits, a water ballet, campus tours, musical performances by Kaleidoscope and Harvest, a student art exhibit, and open houses in dorms and fraternity and sorority houses. A banquet honoring students and their parents was held on Saturday night; a choice between an Eagles basketball game or the final performance of "Time of Your Life" completed the evening's events. The weekend closed on a Sunday morning with the regular worship service.

Activities Highlight Winter Season

An unseasonably mild winter settled on the Jackson area in early December, bringing the students on campus the reality of a "Wet Christmas" rather than the almost universal dream of a white one. Nevertheless, the students maintained cheery outlooks and kept the true holiday spirit alive and busy throughout the Yule season.

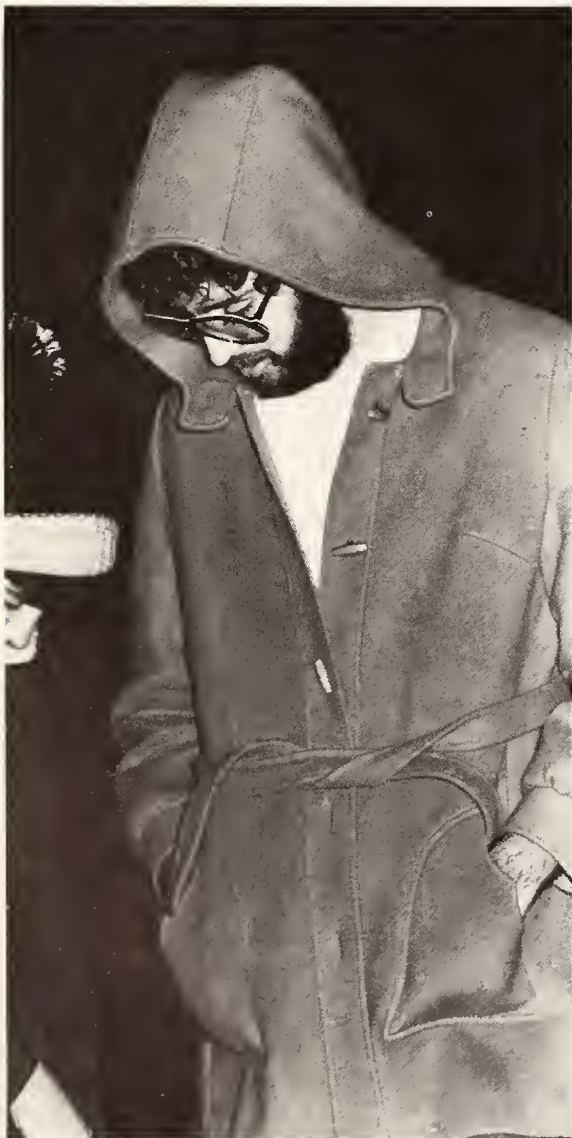

Student support for the Lambuth Eagles Basketball Team was encouraged with a bonfire gathering in the mid-winter evening air. Presenting the annual Candlelight Service the last week prior to the holiday vacation, the Concert Choir filled the chapel with clear, resonant notes of traditional Christmas carols, as well as selections from The Messiah. As a "first" this year, the choir traveled to Memphis where the group gave another performance of the Candlelight Service. During that final week, exam and grade-worries plagued nearly every student, but time was still found to do the pleasant tasks of holiday shopping and gift wrapping.

Varied Interims Offered

As always, the January Interim projects offered this year were diverse and appealing to all students. Studies focused on a wide variety of interests, ranging from learning how to repair small electrical appliances to learning how to play bridge. Other on campus projects offered were as unusual as "Learning to be an Archivist" and as helpful as "Grow It: Gardening for Profit, Health, and Pleasure." Off-campus projects included the fine arts trip to Washington, D.C. and New York. The Jazz Band and Kaleidoscope also made an independent trip to New York and Washington.

Tour Promotes Lambuth Spirit

A new project was added to the January Interim curriculum this year. The Lambuth Jazz Band and Kaleidoscope participated in "Public Relations Through the Performing Arts" with a tour to Washington, D.C. and New York City. Under the direction of Dick Brown and Frank Coulter, the two musical groups met several Tennessee State officials and toured historical sights as well as promoted the Lambuth spirit wherever they performed.

Lambuth Celebrates Bicentennial

A Convocation was held in the chapel in January proclaiming Lambuth a Bicentennial Campus. President Wilder opened the ceremony and Congressman Ed Jones gave remarks. William T. Barry, Chairman of the Tennessee Bicentennial Commission presented Lambuth with official Bicentennial flags. The program was attended by Judge Walter B. Harris of Madison County and Rear Admiral Albert H. Tackett of Millington Navel Air Station. Country entertainer Tom T. Hall sang and read a poem about America.

President Places Emphasis on Liberal Arts

Special emphasis was placed upon the fact that Lambuth is a liberal arts institution and the addition of career-oriented courses does not detract from liberal arts education. President James S. Wilder stressed this fact to faculty, students, trustees, and the public this year. Adding courses in interior design, hotel and restaurant management, and banking management does not sacrifice the quality of a liberal arts education.

President Wilder also asked for the re-establishment of the long range planning committee. Long range planning involves the total Lambuth community. This committee worked on the restatement of Lambuth goals for the future.

The LIFE campaign was introduced this year. Lambuth's Incentive For Endowment is a five year program with a goal of five million dollars. There are five phases to this effort, the first phase being gifts, which ends in the summer of 1976. The purpose of LIFE is two-fold — to increase endowment and to build a fine arts center for Lambuth.

Development and Alumni Affairs

A major key to the success and progress of the independent or church related college is through its development staff, dedicated to the task of securing the necessary funds to carry out a full program of academic excellence. The staff leads such a program of cultivation and dissemination of information concerning the philosophy and program of Christian college education at Lambuth. Development is a team effort which involves the trustees, the president, development staff, faculty, alumni, students, members of the development council and a host of friends. All are a part of this team to promote the college's aims, projects and programs, and to obtain support from a wide range of donors for both major and minor gifts.

Working closely with the development staff is the Alumni Association, made up of graduates and former students of the college and its predecessor, M.C.F.I. The purpose of the association is to secure support and to promote development and to encourage a mutual understanding between the institution and its alumni. The Alumni Association is the foundation of all college support with special emphasis on the loyalty fund.

Library

Several changes were made in the Library staff this year. Dr. Katherine Clement, Depository Librarian, retired in September. She was replaced by Mrs. Fran Miller. Mrs. Miller works full-time giving the students more opportunity to use government materials. The collection has now expanded from two to three rooms. Another new staff member is Mrs. Gail Luttrell who is Secretary of the Acquisitions Department.

Work continues on the conversion of book classification from Dewey Decimal to Library of Congress. At this time the library contains approximately 89,000 volumes which makes it one of the largest in this area.

The Business and Economics Department has initiated a new degree and a new major area during the 75-76 academic year. The Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree was developed. This degree leads to a broader understanding of the total business function as well as it enables the student to specialize in a specific area.

Bank Management is the new major. Features of this degree are a direct connection with First National Bank of Memphis and First Tennessee First National's holding company; interims in banks; work experiences; and some new specialized courses. In addition, special emphasis is placed on women and their management needs and problems.

The Department added Mrs. Amye Fugate to the staff to replace Mrs. Katherine Williams who retired at the close of the 1975 school year.

Library Science

The Library Science program meets the needs of students now completing their certification requirements in the field and those who are already certified teachers but who wish to further their education with a degree in library science. Supervision of the program is under the Education department and is fully accredited for state certification in this area of study.

Several students participated in a practicum in which they worked in libraries in the area. This independent study program gave the students an opportunity to work in their own field of interest.

History

Mayor Robert Conger of Jackson taught two political science courses this year, giving students an inside look at the workings of local government.

Sociology

The emphasis in multi-disciplinary department of Sociology has been two-fold: preparation for graduate or professional studies in a variety of fields or preparation for direct entry into a career. An important aspect of the departmental philosophy is to help to provide the student with an educational experience which is enriching and viable.

Changes in the department included the addition in January of Mr. Bob Penny as instructor in Sociology and Social Work as well as Ms. Susan Davis, who assumed the part-time position of lecturer in Sociology and Career Counselor. In December, Mrs. Madalyn Freund, lecturer of Sociology, announced her departure from the staff, to be effective at the close of the first semester. In Family Development, Mrs. June Creasy was promoted to full-time instructor. Another doctoral sociologist will be joining the staff in September, 1976 adding new strength to the total department.

The department of Education serves students seeking an elementary education major, certification in secondary education, and endorsement in kindergarten, special education, and library science. The department also cooperates with the Speech Department for certification in Speech and Hearing and works closely with the Department of Psychology in planning teacher preparation courses.

The Department provides a sponsor each year for the Student National Education Association, makes the annual nomination for the Margaret Wilson Mills Scholarship Award, and for the past three years has conducted a Comparative Education Tour in Europe. In addition, it regularly furnishes resource personnel for teams conducting evaluations for the Southern Association of Colleges and schools and consistently supplies a staff for state, regional, and national programs related to the teaching of reading. Presently, one staff member is serving a national committee for the International Reading Association.

Art

Thanks to last spring's tornado which splashed a lot of water, dirt and broken glass about the studios, the Art Department began the fall with completely remodeled quarters.

The Internatioanl Ceramics Symposium, sponsored by the Art Department, was shown in October in the Art Gallery. It was a fascinating exhibit of pottery and sculpture by artist-craftsmen from four continents.

The department continued to sponsor travel projects for the January Interim. One group went to Greece and Egypt to study Ancient Art and Architecture, the other to New York to survey Ancient Art to Modern Art in the great museums there.

English

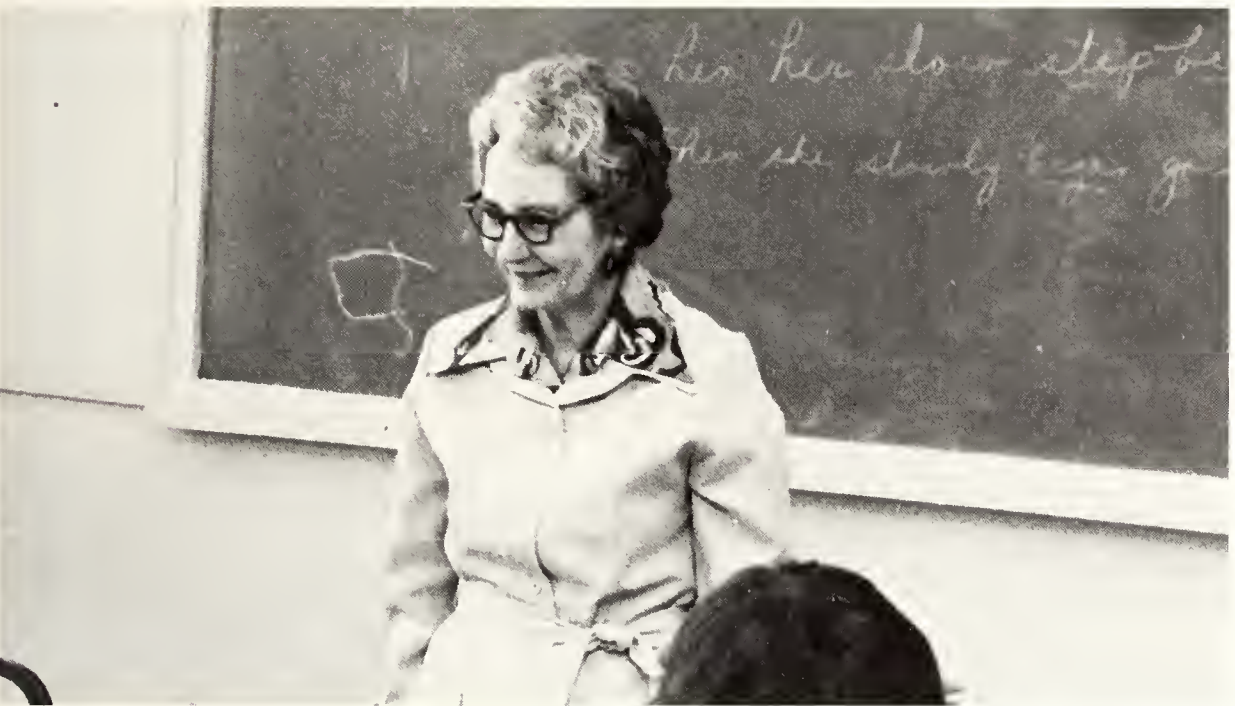

Continuing its efforts to gear curriculum toward both majors and non-majors in English, the English Department offered diverse courses this year to interest a wide range of students. In addition to the usual offerings of literature and composition, the department presented courses in creative writing and journalism.

Interim projects sponsored by the department gave students an opportunity to experience aspects of literature and writing outside the structure of lectures and examinations. In coordination with the Jackson Sun, the department sponsored a practical journalism interim project in which two students worked as January interns at the local newspaper's offices.

Looking toward the future, Mr. Byrum offered an introductory course in Speech Pathology and now the department is certified in that field.

As usual, the department presented a variety of interim projects. Mr. Byrum and Miss Higgs offered a "Fine Arts Trip to New York City." Mr. Neely and Mr. Ray sponsored a "Study of Ancient Art and Theatre in Rome, Athens, and Egypt." Several other interim projects were offered and later canceled because of lack of interest from students.

Music

Serving as traveling ambassadors of Lambuth College, the Lambuth Jazz Band and Kaleidoscope toured Washington, D.C. and New York City in January of 1976. Closer to home, the Jazz Band performed at Lambuth ball games, and civic programs and participated in the Memphis State Jazz Contest, where they placed first in the small college division. A pair of seasonal concerts and a spring tour of Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina churches and high schools highlighted the year for the concert band.

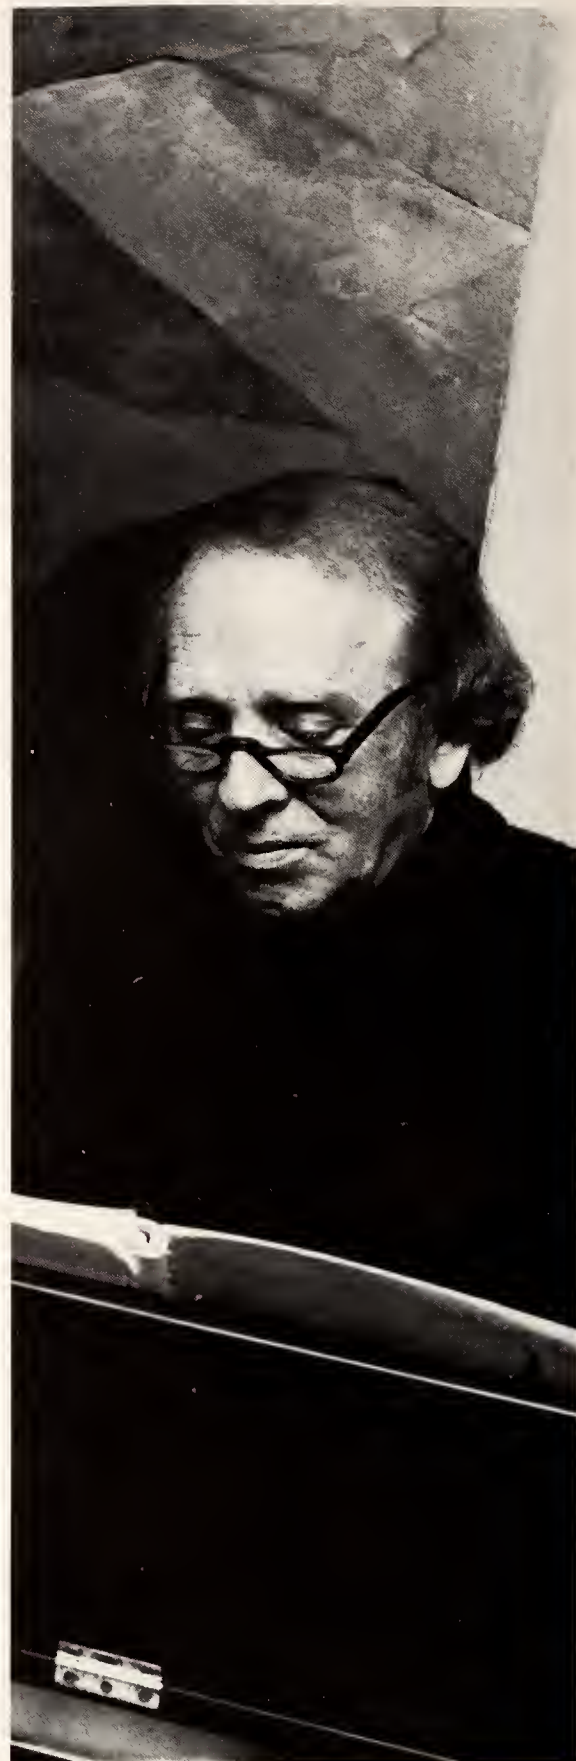

Celebrating the Christmas season, the concert choir performed the Christmas Candlelight Service in the Lambuth Chapel as well as at First United Methodist Church in Memphis. Bicentennial selections and the Requiem were presented in the concert choir spring choral concert. Touring choir made its annual concert tour with a trip to churches in Georgia, Alabama, and various areas of Tennessee.

The Religion and Philosophy Department is committed primarily to its role as a department contributing to a liberal arts education at Lambuth. Much of the department's attention is centered on the promotion of the humanities in general and on the development of interdisciplinary studies. The department sees itself as one possible means of combining the various disciplines in a unified approach to knowledge with religion or philosophy as the centralizing discipline. Courses have been developed both in the traditional areas of Bible, church history, and theology, and in the area of theology and literature, religion and psychology, and eastern religions and philosophies. Interims have ranged from the study of medical ethics to parapsychology, to the theology of country and gospel music.

Foreign Language

In an effort to structure its curriculum to the interests and needs of all students, the Foreign Language Department has added new courses as a part of a more career oriented program. Previously the department has served only those students obtaining a Bachelor of Arts degree; the new courses should stimulate more interest in the Foreign Language department. Simultaneously, the traditional courses in language, civilization, and culture are still offered.

The department uses a multimedia approach in teaching the French, Spanish, and German courses it offers. Besides the usual classroom instruction and written assignments, students have access to the Language lab for oral practice in order to gain proficiency in their courses.

Human Development

The Human Development Center is designed to be an integral part of the total educational process at Lambuth. It offers programs and services which help all students meet their personal and developmental needs. The learning and resource laboratory offers a wide range of opportunities for reading improvement. The Psychological and Counselling service focuses on helping students to cope with the demands and stresses of everyday life experiences. The educational and tutorial services are designed to assist students in areas where they are having difficulties. Career Counselling Services involve helping students to discover their interests and aptitude, to become aware of the wide range of vocational possibilities, and to initiate plans of action.

In addition to the above services, the Center has made it possible for students of psychology and education to gain experience using up-to-date materials and equipment in working with elementary, junior high, and high school students who have learning problems or need tutorial help. The Center has assisted various schools in the area by conducting in-service training programs.

Physical Education

Following the departure of Bob Taylor from the staff, Lambuth's physical education department received a new coach, Mr. Jack Russell. From Orlando, Florida, Russell became head coach for the Lambuth Eagles' baseball team and the Lady Eagles' basketball squad.

Techniques in the art of coaching were emphasized in the interim project "Coaching Basketball," led by Coach Charles Bray. Designed for aspiring physical education teachers and coaches, the project focused on all aspects of the game, including the organization and administration of a basketball program.

Another popular interim project "Enjoying the Outdoors," was led by Mrs. Norma Ellis and Mrs. Jo Booth, from the Biology Department. Trips were made to the Land Between the Lakes, Reelfoot Lake, and many of Tennessee's other places of outdoor camping enjoyment.

Plans were made this year to begin work in the spring on Lambuth's new biology station. The Oxley Biological Field Station should be completed by the fall of 1976. Named for Dr. Arthur D. Oxley, professor emeritus, the facility is located at Lakeshore in Eva, Tennessee. The total cost of the station will be approximately $40,000.

Interims offered this year by the department included "Grow It: Gardening for Profit, Health, and Pleasure," by Dr. Lord and Dr. Davis, and "Tropical Biology," a travel project sponsored by Mrs. Booth, Dr. Carlton, and Dr. Davis.

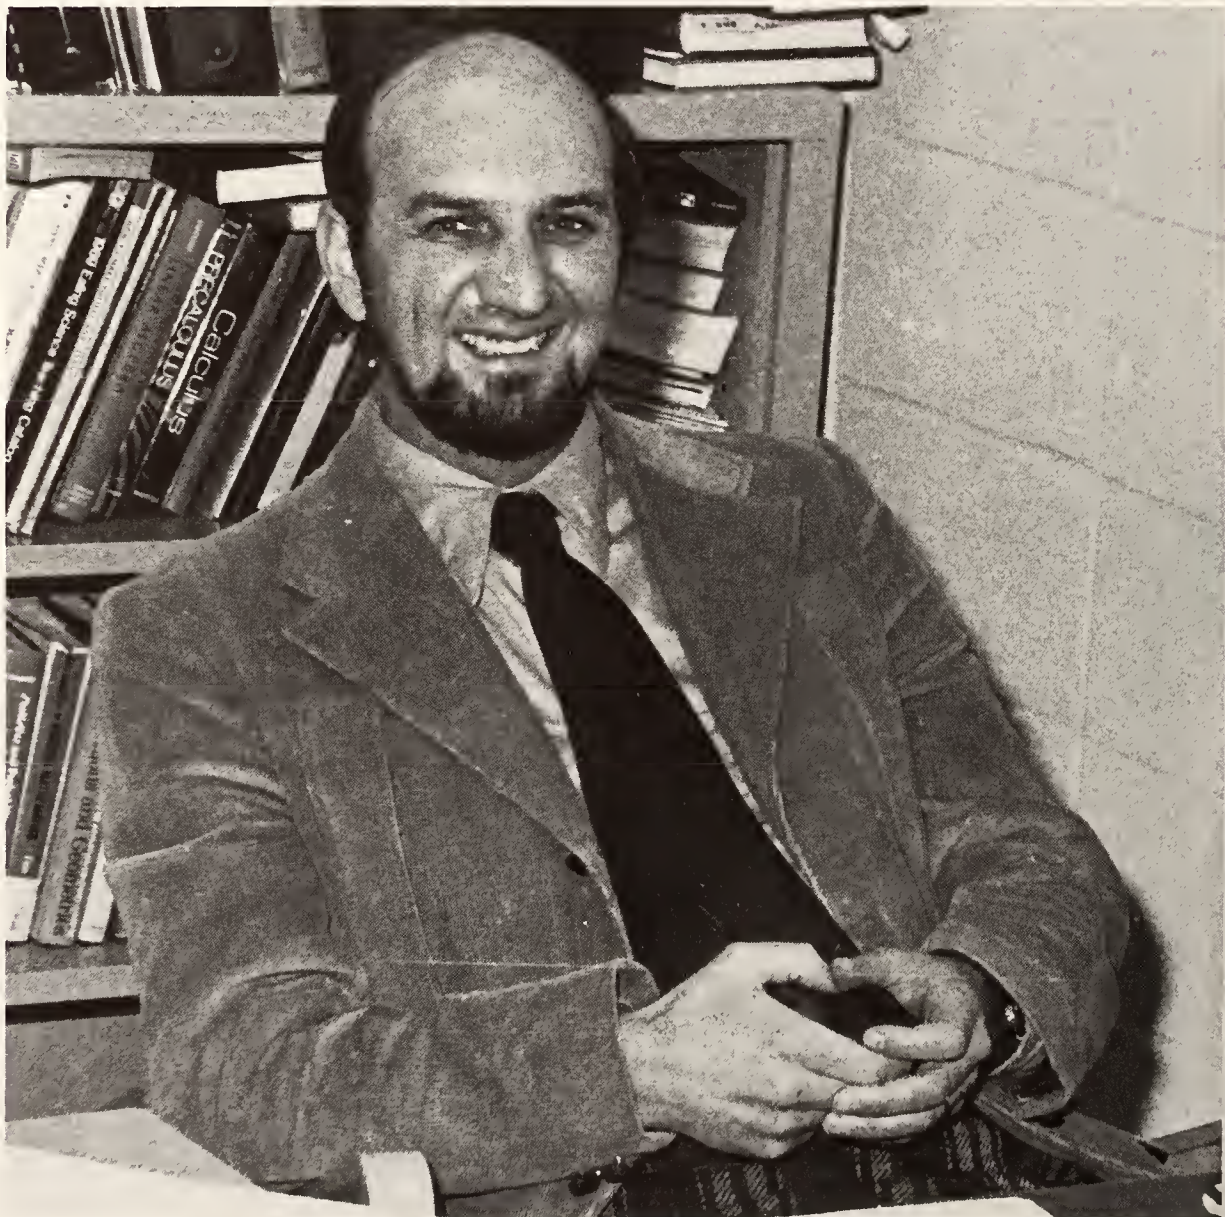

Mathematics and Physics

Most of the math majors who leave Lambuth are very well qualified for teaching, graduate school, or for the high paying jobs that require an undergraduate math major. Mathematics is receiving greater prominence in many fields. The department is fulfilling the needs of pre-professional students such as those in the pre-law program by encouraging the study of Calculus in order to increase the student's deductive capacity.

Physical Science and Chemistry

The Chemistry Department is celebrating the Bicentennial of the discovery of oxygen. The student affiliate of the American Chemical Society is celebrating the Centennial of its founding.

Dr. Ronnie Barnes is the newest member of the Physical Science Department. Dr. Barnes teaches Physical Science and Astronomy.

To help prepare students for the DCAT, MCAT, and PCAT, Dr. Beasley, in conjunction with Dr. Inman, offered a chemistry review for pre-professional examinations as a January Interim. After textbook study, the students ended the month by taking a typical-timed examination in their own field of interest.

Interior Design

Interior Design is one of the largest and fastest growing majors at Lambuth; it is the only program of its type in the Mid-South. The Interior Design program is interdisciplinary, including Art, Business, and Family Development. One of its greatest strengths is the apprenticeship program where students are actually put to work in a real interior design firm. Another feature of this unique major program is a house completely designed by students as a small interior design firm so that learning takes place in as close to a real situation as possible. The entire program is wholly professional, career oriented. Included recently is a related Pre-Professional Architectural Program.

The following pictures were made in the Interior Design house which is the brilliant project of the Interior Design professors Mrs. Nelle Cobb and Mr. Larry Ray. Professors and students alike participated in this magnificent project.

They sponsored a 50's party and the Black and White Formal. The Senior Awards and Founders Day topped off an active year for the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

ΦΜ

Phi Mu Fraternity has been very active on campus this year. In the fall, Phi Mu won 2nd place in volleyball and supported its local philanthropy by holding a Halloween party for Tennessee Sheriff's Boys Town. Phi Mu also held open house for each of the fraternities on campus and a tea honoring the basketball players, cheerleaders, coaches and faculty officials. Thirteen provisional members were initiated during the month of February and new officers were installed. In the spring the chapter received $1000 from the estate of Margarete E. Lemon, grandmother of the late Margarete (Wilson) Mills, first chapter president. Miss Grant received the check from Dr. Smith as Ginger Fralich and Amy McRae observed. The sorority decided to use the money to help deserving members in the chapter. Social highlights for the year included the Honors banquet, the Spring Formal and a Mothers' Tea at the close of the year.

The 1975-1976 school year has been a varied one for Sigma Kappa. Competing in intramurals, Sigma Kappa won first place in volleyball and second place in basketball. In November, Sigma Kappa won second place in the annual Greek All-Sing. Sigmas have also enjoyed their work with a local nursing home as part of their interest in gerontology. Members of Gamma Xi have also enjoyed several social events this year. Among them are the annual Founders' Day banquet, a pancake breakfast, and the annual Spring Formal. Sigmas were selected Who's Who, cheerleaders, class officers, SGA officers, a Kappa Sig Sweetheart, a Sig Ep Sweetheart, and several women's varsity sports.

During rush the Tennessee Zeta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon gained ten pledges. During the year a retreat and ski party was held at Moon Lake, Arkansas. Founders' Day was an active event. Many pledge swaps were held with the Sigma Kappa, Phi Mu, Alpha Xi Delta, and Alpha Omicron Pi sororities. In intramurals, Sigma Phi Epsilon placed first in flagball and volleyball. The chapter was also very active in supporting various charities throughout the year. Members answered telephones for the Cerebral Palsy Telethon, collected for the Heart Fund in February and co-sponsored the Cycle-a-Thon for the Heart Fund in May.

SGA

The SGA year began with student enthusiasm at an all time high. This enthusiasm was maintained by a fall retreat at Lakeshore. Statewide student leaders and advisors were present, including Dr. Denny Smith from Memphis State.

Parents' Weekend and the Book Sale were held again with great success. Representatives participated in the Tennessee Intercollegiate Student Legislature, where they sponsored a bill to reinstate the Tennessee Tuition Grant program. They were also active in lobbying for the funding of this program.

Emphasis was placed on academic affairs this year, with an increase in student input into the quality of higher academic standards. There was also an increase in student body involvement, with more student interest and attendance in forums, entertainment, and polls.

The revisions made in the constitution last year were all successfully utilized this year. One of these, the total involvement of all class officers in subcommittees of SGA, proved especially functional.

Changes made this year included the establishment of a Town Students' Board. This board, led by the undersecretary of communications, served to encourage participation of town students in campus activities. Students were made aware of the opportunities open to them through the use of bulletin boards placed over the campus. A SGA awards' banquet for the spring was also discussed.

Vision

This year the Vision has focused on student involvement in the publication of the paper. There have been no major changes in the paper itself, only in the fact that there are no longer division editors. The Vision is being used as a tool for student opinion. Two major sections of the Vision have been the Letters to the Editor and the Faculty Soapbox, in which both students and faculty can voice their opinions. Added to the paper this year has been the syndicated column of Jack Anderson, bringing outside factual information to the campus and making all aware of national happenings. Second semester, David Corum became the new Editor-in-Chief.

The Black Student Union has been very active this year, beginning with bake sales, and ending the fall semester by sponsoring the Talent Extravaganza, in which a score of talents were displayed. The B.S.U. also sponsored a drive to raise money for Western State Psyciatric Hospital.

In January, the B.S.U. performed a church service for the Sunday morning worship service and was also active by sponsoring the LeMoyne Owen game. During this time the B.S.U. was also responsible for a half-time show and a dance after that game.

The main activity of second semester was the observance of National Black History Week. This week began with the Black Extravaganza which depicted the Black cultural heritage. Other activities included Gosepl Night, with choirs from the West Tennessee area, an informal rap session with Dr. Wesley McClure, and Mr. Isiah Savage, and a concert featuring the Fannie Clark Singers. The B.S.U. sponsored the Ebony Ball in April.

Band

The Concert and Jazz Bands compose both music and non-music majors. The bands presented a winter concert in December and a spring concert in May. The Jazz Band performed at several home basketball games, at the Jackson Merchandise Mart, and at J. C. Penney's in the Jackson Mall. In January, the Jazz Band traveled to New York and Washington, D.C. for a promotion tour for Lambuth. In February, the Jazz Band participated in the Memphis State University College Jazz Band Festival where it placed first in the "B" division.

Choir

Concert Choir is one of the largest organizations on campus. The group presented the annual Candlelight Service at Christmas and the Spring Concert in May. This year's spring concert will feature a salute to the American Bicentennial.

The Touring Choir consists of select members of the Concert Choir. This group sings at churches in the Memphis Conference. In March, the group toured parts of Georgia, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

Dorm Councils

The Dorm Council is responsible for enforcing the rules and regulations of the dorm as stated by the school. It also supervises activities in the dorm. The main concern of the dorm council this year was the installation of the key system and open dorm policy. Keys were made for such dorm's front door and each student was given a key. Regular key checks were made by the dorm council members.

Kaleidoscope

Under the direction of Frank Coulter, talented Kaleidoscope has entertained various organizations with its soft blend of nostalgia, pop and easy-rock. The musical group has represented Lambuth this year through performances for several Methodist Churches in the area, the Jackson Rotary club, the Jackson-Madison County Medical Association, the Tennessee Division of the International Reading Association convention, Second National Bank, and through a promotional tour to Washington and New York during January.

Harvest

Harvest, under the guidance of Mr. William Nace, works to present the "Lambuth Story" to the various churches in the Memphis Conference, the supporting body of Lambuth College. The group also aids the Admissions Department of Lambuth in recruiting prospective students and presenting Lambuth College to the public.

Nobody makes Fiberglas* but Owens-Corning

That's because "Fiberglas" is our trademark . . . spelled as one word, with a capital "F" and one "s." Everyone else has to spell it "fiber glass."

What difference does it make?

To us, all the difference in the world—it's the name we put on all of our products . . . from insulation and reinforcements to tub/shower units and storage tanks.

To you, it means getting products and service from the people with the most experience, the most know-how.

So if you want to be sure of what you're getting, look for Fiberglas* materials like those made at our plant in Jackson Tennessee. Fiberglas* . . . one word, capital "F," one "s."

You see, anybody can make fiber glass. But only Owens-Corning makes Fiberglas*.

Owens-Corning is Fiberglas

*Trademark Registered Owens-Corning Fiberglas
